NOTICE.—An opportunity having been given to all competent Engineers of this Road, who had not taken an active part in exciting the recent difficulties, to return to work, and a number of such having neglected to embrace the opportunity, it is deemed proper to state for the information of the Engineers and the public that they have been paid off, and will not hereafter be employed by this Company under any circumstances.

connectances.

It is desired expedient to make this statement, inasmuch as they are endeavoring to deter other Engineers from acceptions service by representing that in a short time the Company will recursage them and displace the new Engineers, and also by misrepresenting the rules of the Road, and using other unfair measures to accomplish that purpose.

The Company having already secured a sufficient number of Engineers to run their Passenger and most of their Freight rains, and having engaged others who will report themselves for duty in a few days, require nothing further of those who have left the service than that they peacefully leave the Road in our quiet and unobstructed possession.

HOMER RAMSDELL, President.

V B. PALMER'S ADVERTISING AGENCY.

No. VI.

Fubilicity is an indispensable element of spacess to the merchant or manufacturer who would give a speedy and wide distribution to the commodities which he scale to exchange for money. He may have capital, still, convenient position, punctuality, industry and honesty—every possible fitness for his business, and all is nothing if he have not sufficient notoriety. This notoriety, let it cost more or less, he must provide for as carefully as he purchases or manufactures his goods. And it must in extent bear a certain relation to the business he would do. It must be both positive and comparative. People must not only know him and his business, because otherwise they will not find him, but they must know him because otherwise they will find and trade with those who are better known. Customers, like sheep are regarding, and flock where they see others flocking. If nobedy she were engaged in the same houses, it would be important for our dealer to advertise in the newspaces because people are tempted to buy what they read of. It is like having a aniesman with several thousands of people, at the same moment, never offending, never obtravise, never tired—anch scalemans might be worth one, two, three or five thousand dollars a year to you, according to the number of his voices—might he not!

But if others are in the same business, even if they do not advertise, the becomes the more important, for our dealer to do so, and if they do advertise, it becomes doubly important. It becomes the more important for our dealer to do so, and if they do advertise, it becomes doubly important. It becomes the more important for our dealer to do so, and if they do advertise, it becomes doubly important. It becomes the more important for our dealer to do so, and if they do advertise, it becomes doubly important. It becomes the more important for our dealer to do so, and if they do advertise, it becomes doubly impo ce. tul. It is an indi-putable fact that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

VALUE OF ADVERTISING.—When the ascertion that Advertising was a science first felt from the lips of V. B. PALMER, the Morse of commercial intercourse, it struck lightly upon one car. But often, as our thoughts recurred to the subject, it as sumed meaning and force, and irresiatily wen us to reflections, resulting in a conviction of the entire justices of Mr. Palmer's estimate of the popular importance of his chosen field of enterprise. We say Mr. Palmer's field of enterprise, because with him originated the system, and to him is the country indebted for the application of principles which have resulted in the growth, permanence and intelligent prosecution of trade.

As a systematic and intelligent prosecution of trade.

As a systematic and intelligent spiciation of the laws of trade, by which demand and supply are made to sustain and develop each other, the Advertising Agency has not been limited in its benefits to any one channel of business, but bears upon the whole insured interests or the country.

In stimulating the industrial energies and unlocking capital, it is both a cooperator and connecting link to leading influences, adding them to act more efficiently in the physical, social and political in provements which flatinguish our aution and age, and it can not be doubted that in effecting an intelligent and reliable communication between producers and consumers, it is making itself felt in that wide spread confidence of the future which is extending facilities for the exhange of commercial marks by railroads and telescapie.

But it is not our purpose to dwell upon Mr. Palmer's enterprise as a lever of wealth simply. It is in its consections with the social meral sud intellectual interests of the country that we would trace its productive and quickening influences. While business men are aware of its pasterial advantages as a business gen, it few have t telligence and merals of the country.

$\frac{1}{8}\frac{1}{9000}$ REWARD.—The above Reward will be given for such information as shall lead to the apprehension, or $500 will be given for such information as shall lead to the apprehension of CHARLES CARPENTIER, late Cashier of the Northern Railroad Company of France, who lately abscorded from Paris and came to the City of New-York. Said Carpentier masers here also by the name of De Lanney. FARM LANDS for SALE.—The ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY is now prepared to sell over two MILLION OF ACRES

FARMING LANDS.

Is TRACTS OF FORTY ACRES AND UPWARD

OR LONG CREDITS
And at LOW RATES OF INTEREST.

These Lands were granted by the Government to aid in the construction of this Railroad, and include some of the richtest aid most fertile Prairies in the State, interspersed here and there with magnificent groves of oak and other timber. The Road extends from Chicago on the north-east to Cairo at the south, and from thence to Galena and Dunleith, in the nurth-west extreme of the State; and as all the lands its within infects miles on each side of this Road, resdy and cheep means are afforded by it for transporting the products of the lands to markets. Moreover, the rapid growth of flourishing towns and villages along the line, and the great increase in population by importation, &c., afford a substantial and growing home demand every hundred miles the produce of these isnds is carried either in wasons, or interrupted water communications, increases the expenses of transportation, which must be borne by the settlets in the reduced prices of their products; and to that extent precisely are the incomes from their farms, and of course as their investments, annually and every year reduced. The great fertility of the lands now offered for sale by this Compeny, and their consequent yield over those of the Eastern and Middle States, is much more than sufficient to pay the difference in the cost of transportation, especially in view of the facilities furnished by this Road, and others with which it concets, the operations of which are not interrupted by the low water of Summer or the frost of Winter.

PRICE AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

water of Summer or the frost of Winter.

PRICE AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The price will vary from $3 to $25, according to location, quality, &c. Contracts for Deeds may be made during the year [826, stipulating the purchase maney to be paid in five annual installments—the first to become due in two years from the date of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

of contract, and the others annually thereafter. The last payment will become due at the end of the sixth year from the date of the contract.

INTEREST WILL SE CHARGED AT ONLY THREE PER CENT PER ANNUA.

As a security to the performance of the contract, the first two years' interest must be paid is alvance, and it must be understood that at least out-teath of the land purchased shall yearly be brought under cultivation. Longer credits, at eger cent per annua, may be negotiated by special application. Twenty per cent from the credit price will be deducted for cash. The Company's construction bonds will be received as cash.

Ready framed Farm Buildings, which can be set up in a few days, can be obtained from responsible persons.

They will be 12 feet by 25 feet, divided into one living and three bedrooms, and will cost complete, set up on ground chosen anywhere along the road, $150 in cash, exclusive of transportation. Larger buildings may be contracted for at proportionate rates. The Company will forward all the materials for such buildings over their road promptly.

Special arrangements with dealers can be made to supply those purchasing the Company's lands with feucing materials, arricultural tools, and outfit of provisions in any quantity at the towest wholesale prices.

It is believed that the price, long credit, and low rate of interest charged for these lands, will enable a man with a few lundred dollars be cash and extinary industry to make himself independent before all the purchase money becomes due. In the mean time, the trapid settlement of the country will probably have increased their value four or five fold. When required, an experienced person will accompany applicants to give information and all in selecting isnds.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well-known farmers integ in the tion and aid in selecting lands.

Circulars containing numerous instances of successful farming, signed by respectable and well-known farmers living in the neighborhood of the Railroyal lands throughout the State—sho the cost of fencing, price of cattle, expense of harvesting, threshing, etc., by contract—or any other information—will be cheerfully given, on application, either personally or by letter, in English, French, or German, addressed to JOHN WILSON, Land Commissioner of the Illinois*
